

HWH / Kwikkee System Comparison

System Features	HWH	Kwikkee
Jacks extend at 7 degree angle for better stabilization	Yes	No
Footpad on jack pivots for 100% contact with ground	Yes	No
Only requires one hose from pump to each jack	Yes	No
System shuts off automatically when leveling is complete	Yes	No
Emergency manual retract without having to loosen lines and crawl under coach. HWH fluid returns to pump, not the ground	Yes	No
All key components are manufactured in-house	Yes	No
Easy to follow service, parts, and operators manuals available on Company website	Yes	No
Corrosion resistant cylinder rods	Yes	No
Jack cylinder can be removed without removing mounting brackets	Yes	No
Leveling system designed to match GVWR	Yes	No
Control panel allows manual air dump on diesel vehicles	Yes	No
Control panel has lights that indicate when coach is level	Yes	No
Jacks automatically retract if thermal expansion occurs when vehicle traveling	Yes	No
System informs customer if coach cannot be leveled in current location	Yes	No
True one-touch automatic leveling	Yes	No
System automatically stabilizes coach with all four jacks on ground	Yes	No
All electronics designed and manufactured in-house	Yes	No
Jacks are repairable, not throw away	Yes	No
Jacks are sized to achieve BI-AXIS Leveling	Yes	No